Feelin' M.I.

Albert Du

Just exploring different styles to choreograph, these two might feel slightly more femme to further that exploration and confidence into other styles. Short and sweet! For everyone who signed up for my piece, I hope you genuinely had fun doing the moves and coming to the weekly practices. I'm very sorry for the management of logistics right at the end and I hope that you still ended up learning some things regardless and don't feel like you wasted your time. I appreciate you all for sticking through to the best of your abilities throughout these rough times for dancing. At the very least I'm glad I was able to meet you guys and put some smiles on some faces once in a while.

You Got It In You

Jessica Zhao

We all need words of encouragement at times. It's always nice to hear that we "got it in us" to achieve what ever we need to get done. I wanted to create this piece to reflect my time here at CMU and emphasize how much the support from friends and fellow dancers means to me.

Although the transition from rhythmic gymnastics to dance wasn't as natural as I thought it would be, I'm so so grateful that I had the opportunity to learn how to dance (and choreograph!) through DS. Thank you to all of the friends and memories that I have made throughout my dance journey. I hope we keep in touch, and I will miss dancing with you all. <3

It's Jason Derulo~

Iris Lu, Jordan Widjaja Janie Xue, Amy Deng, Tina Lin

"Jason Derulo~" Does that ring a bell? This iconic singer has been living in our playlists since our middle school days. This semester, we have prepared an artist's tribute to him with bangers like Zipper, Swalla, and Coño. Enjoy!

Amy Zhang, Young Kim

We hope this piece reminds our dancers and everyone who watches of why we love to dance. We wanted to allow our dancers to focus on enjoying themselves and bringing their own personal style to our choreography without worrying about conforming to a particular mold of dancing. We thank all our dancers for doing just that and for making this return to in person dancing so memorable this semester:)

PS: Thank you Young for putting up with so many late night choreo sessions and for helping to make my last ditch effort to choreograph before graduating possible :)) -Amy

Even though you tricked me into choreographing the whole piece with you when you said it was just for the demo, seeing how much you and our dancers enjoyed it was worth it in the end. Thanks for your constant positive energy and passion - Young
